CLEARFIELD CAN GET CONVENTION

Central Pennsylvania Firemen May Come Here

A VERY IMPORTANT GATHERING

Meetings of Association Always Bring Thousands of People to Towns in Which They are Held—Necessary to Raise $1000 to Finance the Affair—Committee Will Report on the Matter at Meeting of Department Next Friday Evening.

The Central District Firemen's association is an organization for mutual benefit of all the fire companies in Clearfield county and those in most of the towns in surrounding counties. This association is one of the healthiest and most prosperous fire organizations in the state, due to the efficiency and ability of those who are and have been its officers.

The membership is composed of its officers and the delegates from the various companies. Each company or fire department in the association is entitled to one delegate annually, and such delegate may remain an individual member of the association by payment of $1 annual dues.

The twenty-second annual convention of the association will be held this year at Patton, on August 19, 20 and 21. This annual convention has become a large affair, bringing together thousands of firement and others from all over Central Pennsylvania. There is a keen rivalry among the towns represented as to which town shall secure the convention for the next year as it is an excellent advertisement for the town that has it.

At the last meeting of the Clearfield fire company the idea of securing the convention for Clearfield next year was discussed and Chief Connelly was directed to appoint a committee to ascertain whether or not the business men desire that the convention come here.

Will Need $1000.

Subscriptions to the amount of about $1000 would be required to properly handle the convention. Only the favorable sentiment of the people is wanted at this time and this must be had or the convention will go elsewhere next year. The committee will report at a special department meeting on Friday, July 17. It is to be hoped that our business people will give such assurances that Clearfield may entertain this association next year.

Clearfield county's capable county commissioner, W. C. Langsford, was the third president of the association and has been its secretary for more than fifteen years.

Mr. Johnson's Family Arrive.

R. E. Johnson, manager of the Progressive Publishing Co., spent Sunday in Wheeling, Va., at the home of his mother, Mrs. Catherine E. Johnson, where his wife and two children have been visiting for the past week. Upon his return this morning Mr. Johnson was accompanied by his family and has taken up his abode on Pine street.

On July 1 about 1000 cars were listed and 1100 on the following day. On some subsequent days 500 and 600 cars were listed.

The department has issued automobile license tag No. 112,400, the highest number ever granted in this state, and the total revenue from automobile licenses is climbing towar the $1, 225,000 mark.

CHAUTAUQUA CLOSES A SUCCESSFUL WEEK

Clearfield Readily Guarantees Its Return Next Year

Dr. S. Parks Cadman, pastor of Central Congregational church of New York city, lectured at the chautauqua tent on Saturday afternoon. Dr. Cadman has made his church the most influential in the country. Three-quarters of a million dollars for missions, two thousand new members, a full church every service, is his record. He used as the subject of his lecture, "Life in Modern Babylon." It was a very forceful lecture, a portrayal of life in the great cities of America and Europe.

Saturday evening Senator Minnis-Lan spoke, giving a long talk on political conditions of the east and the west.

Sunday evening a union service of all the churches held in the chautauqua tent brought to a close the seven joyous days. A united choir from all the churches was led by Professor H. Clark Thayer. Rev. Mr. Haas, of Bellefonte, was the speaker of the evening. In the course of his lecture he said:

"In the opening scene of Scott's "Lady of the Lake" we see the stag chased by the hunter and almost captured, but just as the huntsman is ready to let go the fatal arrow his horse falls and dies, and the stag escapes. We follow the stag to the flowing stream of pure water where it quenches its thirst. In Tiffany's great masterpiece we again see the stag drinking from the flowing fountain.

"Turning from animals to men we find that all men share alike, no matter how much they differ in other things, in that one desire for the knowledge of Christ, and hunt for that fountain wherein they can find it. All faiths are seeking for the same thing; the woman who kneels counting her beads and crying out to the Virgin Mary; the man who stands in God's first temple,the great wood, and raising his face to the stars and holds communion with his maker. All find at length the satisfying faith for which they seek through perfect faith in God."

The Adriatic band furnished the best music of the week on Saturday and Sunday. They were 25 expert musicians from Italy under the leadership of Professor Ferranti.

Subscriptions for next year's tickets were taken and the 1915 chautauqua has been guaranteed by many of the prominent Clearfield citizens.

PHILIP CIMO ASKS FOR NEW TRIAL

Slayer of Marie Burzotto Wants Another Chance

ALLEGED THAT JUROR TALKED

Harry K. Leathers Said to Have Expressed an Opinion Before Sitting in the Case—He Swears That He Was Last Man to Agree to First Degree Verdict.

Testimony of several witnesses was taken before Judge Bell this morning in the matter of the application of Philip Cimo for a new trial. At the March term of criminal court Cimo was convicted of murder in the first degree for the shooting to death of Marie Burzotto in Clearfield.

Application for a new trial in this case was made by the prisoner's counsel on the ground that Harry K. Leathers, one of the jurors in the case prior to the trial, had told several persons at Curwensville that Cimo should have been hanged the next day for killing the girl.

Several Witnesses Heard.

Three Italian residents of Curwensville, fellow employees of Mr. Leathers in the silk tannery, swore that, on the Monday or Tuesday immediately following the murder, Leathers had remarked in their presence that "that kind of people should be hanged the next day and not be given a trial."

Mr. Leathers, on the stand, stated that he had never conversed with either of the three witnesses in regard to the case; that as a member of the jury which convicted Cimo he had urged a verdict of murder in the second degree, and that he was the last man to agree to a first degree verdict.

Not Prejudiced Against Prisoner.

Mr. Leathers said that he had no prejudice against Cimo. Frank Leach another juror in the case, swore that Mr. Leathers had held out for a second degree verdict for at least two hours and that Leathers was the last man to join in a first degree verdict.

Judge Bell stated that the argument for and against a new trial may possibly be held next Monday.

Caro Case Postponed.

Owing to the illness of Mr. Glenn one of the attorneys for Paul Caro and Raphael Mastrini, convicted of murder in the second degree for the killing of Antonio Matalino, on the West Side, the hearing of the petition for a new trial, which was to have been held today, was postponed until a later date.

The court was confronted with a number of criminal cases this morning. Silas Bundy, charged with sodomy, was admitted to bail in the sum of $500.

Theodore Zimmerman, a 12-year old lad of DuBois, who was arrested in that town Saturday, charged with robbing a number of places in DuBois, and who was brought to the county seat by Chief of Police Jeffries this morning, was before the court and was sent to the county home, to be under the sheriff's care.

Frank L. Lyons, arrested in DuBois on Saturday on the charge of selling liquor to miners, was held in his own recognizance for court.

F. L. Allen, having served his sentence of six months for statutory rape was released today.

No Damage Done.

The firemen were called to the Fourth ward shortly after noon today, where a slight fire had started in the house of a man named Atax. No damage.

Dr. F. D. Leipold, Dentist, will be absent from his office until Monday, July 20. July 13—6t

PENROSE GANG IS WORKERS' FOE

Pinchot and Lewis Denounce Machine Domination

MINERS PROMISE SUPPORT

Washington Party Candidates Enthusiastically Received by Coal Diggers, Shopmen and Railroad Employes in Luzerne County—Roosevelt's Name Greeted With Roars of Applause.

Hazleton, July 13—"A law requiring the state to inspect the mine scale by which the wage of miners is determined should be placed on the statute books."

This is the answer given by William Draper Lewis, Washington party candidate for governor Saturday evening to the opinion of the state legal department, under Penrose machine domination, which says the mine scales need not be inspected.

To the several hundred miners in the throng of 1500 persons who heard Doctor Lewis and Gifford Pinchot, the party's nominee for United States senator, this statement meant that, if the Washington party is placed in power, the anthracite coal trust will not have the opportunity to rob the miner through false scales.

No Inspection of Scales.

The attorney general of the state Friday gave an opinion to James Sweeney, state sealer of weights, that no law required him to inspect the mine scales. Doctor Lewis told of this, and at once saw the opportunity thus given the coal interests by the Penrose gang to defraud the miner, whose wages depend on the accuracy of these scales.

The crowd cheered and applauded when Doctor Lewis made this promise accepting it as another evidence that the nominee for governor is with the people in their fight to throw off the yoke of Penroseism and the coal companies.

Cheers for Roosevelt.

When Doctor Lewis told the crowd 'We are coming back here in the fall and we shall have with us that great friend of your and I am glad to say ours, Colonel Theodore Roosevelt,"the crowd broke into a roar of applause and cheers that lasted for a minute.

The candidates reached Hazleton Saturday night, having spent the afternoon visiting the towns in southern Luzerne county.

Mr. Kemp introduced the speakers at the night meeting. The Hazleton Liberty band played before the speeches.

In the crowd were many prominent business men of the city, who gave the candidate an informal reception at the hotel before the meeting.

To the miners and shopmen and other workers of Luzerne county whom they met in Saturday's tour the candidates made it clear that the men who now control the Republican party are the enemies of the workers.

Speaking at Ashley, where hundreds of railroad shopmen and miners were met personally by Doctor Lewis and Mr. Pinchot, the candidate for governor, said:

"The man who as chairman of the committee of the senate which throttled child labor and workmen's compensation laws is now chairman of the Republican state committee, trying to elect the servant of special privilege, Boies Penrose, to the senate.

"I say to you men that the workers of this state cannot trust a party controlled by men who have proved themselves the enemies of the working men and are now trying to win votes by posing as their friends."

After a morning spent in Wilkes-Barre, where several shops and the railroad freight stations were visited, the candidates spent the afternoon touring Luzerne county, reaching

BAPTIST OUTING AT LAKEMONT JULY 24

Churches of Central Pennsylvania Association Plan Picnic

Friday, July 24, will be a red letter day for Baptists of Central Pennsylvania. The day has been decided upon for the annual outing of the the Baptist of the Central Pennsylvania association which will be held at Lakemont park, near Altoona. All the churches in the association will be in attendance.

A most interesting series of contests will occur in the forenoon. These promise to afford no end of fun and pleasure to the "big children" as well as the little children. This delightful park affords all kinds of pleasure to the old as well as the young, and none need fear that desirable amusements will be lacking.

Dinner and supper will be served at the shelter at a nominal charge. Last year's experience warrants the assertion that the refreshments will be generous, delightful and satisfying.

In the afternoon the prizes will be awarded at the casino to the winners of the various contests. This is to be followed by a song service and an address by a prominent Baptist preacher. After the address there are to be balloon contests. These will contribute their share of amusement to the occasion.

The Bible schools of the First Baptist church of Altoona and of Hollidaysburg and of other Baptist churches will unite their annual picnic with Baptist day. This will help make the day a grand success.

All Baptists and their friends are urged to make a note of Baptist day and to be on hand to participate in the joys and benefits of the day, so that Friday, July 24, may be a red letter day in the denomination.

HUERTA READY TO RESIGN HIS OFFICE

But Even This May Not Bring Peace to Mexican Nation

Vera Cruz, July 13. General Huerta would be willing to step aside from the presidency provided a man agreeable to the various factions could be found to take his place, declares Adolfo de La Lama, Mexican minister of finance, who arrived here yesterday from Mexico City on his way to Europe.

The minister asserted that secret conferences between representatives of General Huerta and Venustiano Carranza, the first chief of the Constitutionalists, were now in progress at New York, and he had reason to believe that unless an agreement was reached with Carranza, Huerta would not surrender the presidency.

The Mexican official was met at the railroad station by General Funston, and extra precautions were taken to guard against any demonstrations.

CESSATION OF FIGHTING IN MEXICO IN FORESEEN HERE

(By International News Service)

Washington, July 13.—Temporary cessation of fighting Mexico is foreseen here. The officials look to the influential nations of Europe and South America to induce Carranza to treat with Francisco Carabajael, who is expected to become provisional president when Huerta abdicates and flees the country, which is now looked for hourly.

When Huerta leaves the officials here believe he will depart through the American lines, under cover of the American guns at Vera Cruz.

Administration circles are showing concern lest the withdrawal of Villa and his army to the north may presage Villa's seeing himself up as president of a northern republic. Scarpata is now intimating that he will not stop fighting until the distribution of landed estates is made.

Even with Huerta eliminated the officials here say no genuine peace will have resulted.

WHAT?

What are you wiling to do to help make Clearfield a bigger and better town?

Good evening! Be glad that you do not live in South Africa, where it is really hot.

FICTITIOUS VALUES.

A number of New Jersey farmers who demanded prices for their lands much higher than the assessed valuation are to pay the penalty of their greed by having the assessed valuation of their farms increased. Real estate should be assessed at a fixed percentage of the price at which it would sell at public sale and the assessement on all property of the same class should be equal.

Nothig prevents the progress of a community more than the fixing of fictitious prices on real estate. Public and private improvements and the establishment of important industries serve to increase the value of real estate in a town, but owners of town lots are too often inclined to increase the price of their holding far above its actual value,causing those who are seeking home sites to abandon the project.

Clearfield real estate is high-priced. Some of the lots of ground in this town are worth what is asked for them, while others are not. Prospective citizens are discouraged from locating in the town by the fact that they are asked two prices for building lots or exoritant rentals. This is why many of the people are building on the West Side, and it is why some of the vacant lots in the central part of the town will remain vacant for many years to come.

PUBLICITY.

What is publicity? It is telling the public what you have to sell, what you want to buy, what you have to show them, et cetera. There are two kinds of publicity—through the columns of the newspapers, and by word of mouth. The merchant, theatrical manager or real estate agent who depends upon the gossips of the neighborhood to make known what he wants the public to learn will receive small patronage.

The newspaper is the only reliable, efficient medium of publicity. The newspaper is read by the intelligent, progressive residents of the community, and the people look to the newspaper to keep them informed, not only of the news of the day, but of what the merchant has to sell, what entertainment the theatre offers and what the real estate agent has for sale. And in Clearfield the Progress is the best advertising medium because it reaches more readers than any other newspaper issued in the town.

Secretary Kalbus has issued his annual invitation for the hunters in the big cities to overrun the interior counties of the state and slay all the game they did not kill last season. Who pays Kalbfus' salary, the people or the big city hunters?

It that carnival which is coming here today is half as bad as reported the burgess should cancel its contract and advise it to move on. Clearfield has no room for immoral shows of any kind.

Wish that the property owners of Clearfield were as liberal in the use of paint on their buildings as some of the women of the town are alleged to be in its use on their faces.

You didn't hear the horny-handed sons of toil who keep the court house steps smooth boasting of their fine garden patches.

Poetic justice must also be blind judging from the many doggerel writers who escape sentence to insane asylums.

PENROSE GANG WORKERS' FOE'

here a crowd of 200 men was waiting to meet the Progressives.

Miners Promise Support.

Through the Wyoming valley, historical as the scene of the bloodiest Indian massacre of the revolutionary war, the candidates received assurance that the voters are preparing an equally decisive ending for Penrose and his men.

At Ashley, Charles Brady, one of the influential miners of the district told Mr. Pinchot that the Ashley miners would give him from 500 to 800 votes, James Haslen, another Ashley worker, laid off work for the afternoon so he could meet Pinchot and Lewis.

Four hundred miners receiving their pay at the Kingston colliery, were met personally by the candidates, who stood at the office gate shaking hands as the men came out. A man in the crowd stopped when he saw Pinchot.

"Are you the man who is out against Penrose?" he asked. When Pinchot said yes, he answered. "Then we're with you," and walked on. It was the same at the Ashley shops of the Delaware and Hudson railroad, where 250 men were met as they left the shops at noon. All were eager for the Pinchot buttons and the platforms. Two hundred working men in the Wilkes-Barre freight stations of the Delaware and Hudson, Central, Lehigh Valley and Pennsylvania railroads, were greeted at their work. They were uniformly cordial, promising their help to beat the Penrose gang.

Women Greet the Candidates.

At Nanticoke, one of the most enthusiastic crowds of the day was waiting at Main and Prospect streets when the campaigners arrived. Here Joseph Edwards candidate for the legislature on the Washington ticket, greeted the Progressives.

Dr. Margaret Sorensen, the woman suffrage leader in the district, was in the crowd. At Gracedale, where fifty working men stopped work to meet the candidates, half a dozen women in the crowd told Doctor Lewis and Mr. Pinchot that they wished they could vote for them.

White Haven was reached forty-five minutes behind the time the party was expected, but 200 persons quickly gathered when the Pinchot automobile was seen approaching. They cheered the name of Roosevelt. Fifteen hundred voters were met personally during the day.

IN THE MOVIES

Old Cobbler Reforms Tough Mining Town.

What is success? Does it come from within or without? That depends, you may say on the attitude one assumes as to what sucess is. But why is it some people, honest and wholesome who have made the world better by living in it, seem cut out for misfortune and sorrow? If any one deserved the best the world had to offer it was old Nathan, the hero of this play, Howbeit, few men fared harder. And why? Some people would be inclined to throw down their hands when confronted with such cases, preferring to consider it a conundrin of life that could never be explained. Old Nathan did not understand the treatment that was accorded to him; his wife was a drunkard and his only son a thief. And yet, was his life a failure?

"The Old Cobbler" is a play that at once reaches the deepest sympathies of the human heart. and while the principal character is largely a character study a situation is produced that demands a solution and explanation. As to what they are you must see the play to find out. It will be shown at the New opera house this evening. But in the finding out you will not only be absorbed in the working out of the tense story, but you will have pointed out an answer to that question—what is sucess?—in a way that is both new and stratling. 'Tis a play that is different.

"The Mystery of Wickham Hall," shon at the opera house Saturday evening attracted a large crowd of people, who were greatly interested and astonished as they saw the mysterious linking of past and present that the author has used in this onderful tale of heredity

Another reel of pictures shown was 'Birds of Passage," altogether different from the other reel It was a happy change from the deep unraveling of an almost tragic mystery to this quaint Bohemian comedy Again and again the opera house rang with the laughter and applause of the audience as this picture was shown

"Love and Electricity" is one of the best joker comedies, filled with real live fun. Louise loves Bob. the electrician, but, for a thousand feet of roaring farce, father continues to object until sparks and sparkling ultimately result in victory for electricity—and the lovers. The pictures are shown at the opera house tonight.

Few persons can claim the distinction of having been taught to swim, to ride a cavorting surfboard by the champion swimmer of the world. Miss Betty, pretty and talented leading woman of the Universal studios in Holly wood Cal., who has just returned from Hawaii, where she was a member of the Universal "101 Bison," company, is now one of the most adept women swimmers in the world. Duke Kahananmoku, the Hawaiian who holds the world's record in aquatic dashes up to a mile, was Miss Scade's tutor. The famous Hawaiian not only taught the pretty photoplay star to swim, but also made her into a clever and daring surf-board performer.

Those who have been fortunate enough to witness the advance exhibition of "The Man Who Lost But Won" and 'The Skull" have come to realize that a new and important figure has entered the Universal ranks in the person of Miss Dorothy Philips. She posses a lofty and spirituelle beauty, which greatly aids her in the interpretation of the character she is playing.

Object of Education.

The entire object of true education is to make people not merely "do" the right things, but "enjoy" the right things, not merely industrious, but to love industry—not merely learned, but to love knowledge—not merely pure, but to love purity—not merely just, but to hunger and thirst after justice.—Ruskin

Between Love and Duty.

"I want to talk to you about becoming your son in law," said the young man I can't advise you on the subject of becoming a member of the family,' replied the father of the young woman in the case "As your sincere friend, I ought to speak freely, but as a husband and father I am restrained."

CLEARFIELD CAN GET CONVENTION

Central Pennsylvania Firemen May Come Here

A VERY IMPORTANT GATHERING

Meetings of Association Always Bring Thousands of People to Towns in Which They are Held—Necessary to Raise $1000 to Finance the Affair—Committee Will Report on the Matter at Meeting of Department Next Friday Evening.

The Central District Firemen's association is an organization for mutual benefit of all the fire companies in Clearfield county and those in most of the towns in surrounding counties. This association is one of the healthiest and most prosperous fire organizations in the state, due to the efficiency and ability of those who are and have been its officers.

The membership is composed of its officers and the delegates from the various companies. Each company or fire department in the association is entitled to one delegate annually, and such delegate may remain an individual member of the association by payment of $1 annual dues.

The twenty-second annual convention of the association will be held this year at Patton, on August 19, 20 and 21. This annual convention has become a large affair, bringing together thousands of firement and others from all over Central Pennsylvania. There is a keen rivalry among the towns represented as to which town shall secure the convention for the next year as it is an excellent advertisement for the town that has it.

At the last meeting of the Clearfield fire company the idea of securing the convention for Clearfield next year was discussed and Chief Connelly was directed to appoint a committee to ascertain whether or not the business men desire that the convention come here.

Will Need $1000.

Subscriptions to the amount of about $1000 would be required to properly handle the convention. Only the favorable sentiment of the people is wanted at this time and this must be had or the convention will go elsewhere next year. The committee will report at a special department meeting on Friday, July 17. It is to be hoped that our business people will give such assurances that Clearfield may entertain this association next year.

Clearfield county's capable county commissioner, W. C. Langsford, was the third president of the association and has been its secretary for more than fifteen years.

Mr. Johnson's Family Arrive.

R. E. Johnson, manager of the Progressive Publishing Co., spent Sunday in Wheeling, Va., at the home of his mother, Mrs. Catherine E. On July 1 about 1000 cars were listed and 1100 on the following day. On some subsequent days 500 and 600 cars were listed.

The department has issued automobile license tag No. 112,400, the highest number ever granted in this state, and the total revenue from automobile licenses is climbing towar the $1, 225,000 mark.

CHAUTAUQUA CLOSES A SUCCESSFUL WEEK

Clearfield Readily Guarantees Its Return Next Year

Dr. S. Parks Cadman, pastor of Central Congregational church of New York city, lectured at the chautauqua tent on Saturday afternoon. Dr. Cadman has made his church the most influential in the country. Three-quarters of a million dollars for missions, two thousand new members, a full church every service, is his record. He used as the subject of his lecture, "Life in Modern Babylon." It was a very forceful lecture, a portrayal of life in the great cities of America and Europe.

Saturday evening Senator Minnis-Lan spoke, giving a long talk on political conditions of the east and the west.

Sunday evening a union service of all the churches held in the chautauqua tent brought to a close the seven joyous days. A united choir from all the churches was led by Professor H. Clark Thayer. Rev. Mr. Haas, of Bellefonte, was the speaker of the evening. In the course of his lecture he said:

"In the opening scene of Scott's "Lady of the Lake" we see the stag chased by the hunter and almost captured, but just as the huntsman is ready to let go the fatal arrow his horse falls and dies, and the stag escapes. We follow the stag to the flowing stream of pure water where it quenches its thirst. In Tiffany's great masterpiece we again see the stag drinking from the flowing fountain.

"Turning from animals to men we find that all men share alike, no matter how much they differ in other things, in that one desire for the knowledge of Christ, and hunt for that fountain wherein they can find it. All faiths are seeking for the same thing; the woman who kneels counting her beads and crying out to the Virgin Mary; the man who stands in God's first temple,the great wood, and raising his face to the stars and holds communion with his maker. All find at length the satisfying faith for which they seek through perfect faith in God."

The Adriatic band furnished the best music of the week on Saturday and Sunday. They were 25 expert musicians from Italy under the leadership of Professor Ferranti.

Subscriptions for next year's tickets were taken and the 1915 chautauqua has been guaranteed by many of the prominent Clearfield citizens.

PHILIP CIMO ASKS FOR NEW TRIAL

Slayer of Marie Burzotto Wants Another Chance

ALLEGED THAT JUROR TALKED

Harry K. Leathers Said to Have Expressed an Opinion Before Sitting in the Case—He Swears That He Was Last Man to Agree to First Degree Verdict.

Testimony of several witnesses was taken before Judge Bell this morning in the matter of the application of Philip Cimo for a new trial. At the March term of criminal court Cimo was convicted of murder in the first degree for the shooting to death of Marie Burzotto in Clearfield.

Application for a new trial in this case was made by the prisoner's counsel on the ground that Harry K. Leathers, one of the jurors in the case prior to the trial, had told several persons at Curwensville that Cimo should have been hanged the next day for killing the girl.

Several Witnesses Heard.

Three Italian residents of Curwensville, fellow employees of Mr. Leathers in the silk tannery, swore that, on the Monday or Tuesday immediately following the murder, Leathers had remarked in their presence that "that kind of people should be hanged the next day and not be given a trial."

Mr. Leathers, on the stand, stated that he had never conversed with either of the three witnesses in regard to the case; that as a member of the jury which convicted Cimo he had urged a verdict of murder in the second degree, and that he was the last man to agree to a first degree verdict.

Not Prejudiced Against Prisoner.

Mr. Leathers said that he had no prejudice against Cimo. Frank Leach another juror in the case, swore that Mr. Leathers had held out for a second degree verdict for at least two hours and that Leathers was the last man to join in a first degree verdict.

Judge Bell stated that the argument for and against a new trial may possibly be held next Monday.

Caro Case Postponed.

Owing to the illness of Mr. Glenn one of the attorneys for Paul Caro and Raphael Mastrini, convicted of murder in the second degree for the killing of Antonio Matalino, on the West Side, the hearing of the petition for a new trial, which was to have been held today, was postponed until a later date.

The court was confronted with a number of criminal cases this morning. Silas Bundy, charged with sodomy, was admitted to bail in the sum of $500.

Theodore Zimmerman, a 12-year old lad of DuBois, who was arrested in that town Saturday, charged with robbing a number of places in DuBois, and who was brought to the county seat by Chief of Police Jeffries this morning, was before the court and was sent to the county home, to be under the sheriff's care.

Frank L. Lyons, arrested in DuBois on Saturday on the charge of selling liquor to miners, was held in his own recognizance for court.

F. L. Allen, having served his sentence of six months for statutory rape was released today.

No Damage Done.

The firemen were called to the Fourth ward shortly after noon today, where a slight fire had started in the house of a man named Atax. No damage.

Dr. F. D. Leipold, Dentist, will be absent from his office until Monday, July 20. July 13—6t

Washington Party Candidates Enthusiastically Received by Coal Diggers, Shopmen and Railroad Employes in Luzerne County—Roosevelt's Name Greeted With Roars of Applause.

Hazleton, July 13—"A law requiring the state to inspect the mine scale by which the wage of miners is determined should be placed on the statute books."

This is the answer given by William Draper Lewis, Washington party candidate for governor Saturday evening to the opinion of the state legal department, under Penrose machine domination, which says the mine scales need not be inspected.

To the several hundred miners in the throng of 1500 persons who heard Doctor Lewis and Gifford Pinchot, the party's nominee for United States senator, this statement meant that, if the Washington party is placed in power, the anthracite coal trust will not have the opportunity to rob the miner through false scales.

No Inspection of Scales.

The attorney general of the state Friday gave an opinion to James Sweeney, state sealer of weights, that no law required him to inspect the mine scales. Doctor Lewis told of this, and at once saw the opportunity thus given the coal interests by the Penrose gang to defraud the miner, whose wages depend on the accuracy of these scales.

The crowd cheered and applauded when Doctor Lewis made this promise accepting it as another evidence that the nominee for governor is with the people in their fight to throw off the yoke of Penroseism and the coal companies.

Cheers for Roosevelt.

When Doctor Lewis told the crowd 'We are coming back here in the fall and we shall have with us that great friend of your and I am glad to say ours, Colonel Theodore Roosevelt,"the crowd broke into a roar of applause and cheers that lasted for a minute.

The candidates reached Hazleton Saturday night, having spent the afternoon visiting the towns in southern Luzerne county.

Mr. Kemp introduced the speakers at the night meeting. The Hazleton Liberty band played before the speeches.

In the crowd were many prominent business men of the city, who gave the candidate an informal reception at the hotel before the meeting.

To the miners and shopmen and other workers of Luzerne county whom they met in Saturday's tour the candidates made it clear that the men who now control the Republican party are the enemies of the workers.

Speaking at Ashley, where hundreds of railroad shopmen and miners were met personally by Doctor Lewis and Mr. Pinchot, the candidate for governor, said:

"The man who as chairman of the committee of the senate which throttled child labor and workmen's compensation laws is now chairman of the Republican state committee, trying to elect the servant of special privilege, Boies Penrose, to the senate.

"I say to you men that the workers of this state cannot trust a party controlled by men who have proved themselves the enemies of the working men and are now trying to win votes by posing as their friends."

After a morning spent in Wilkes-Barre, where several shops and the railroad freight stations were visited, the candidates spent the afternoon touring Luzerne county, reaching

BAPTIST OUTING AT LAKEMONT JULY 24

Churches of Central Pennsylvania Association Plan Picnic

Friday, July 24, will be a red letter day for Baptists of Central Pennsylvania. The day has been decided upon for the annual outing of the the Baptist of the Central Pennsylvania association which will be held at Lakemont park, near Altoona. All the churches in the association will be in attendance.

A most interesting series of contests will occur in the forenoon. These promise to afford no end of fun and pleasure to the "big children" as well as the little children. This delightful park affords all kinds of pleasure to the old as well as the young, and none need fear that desirable amusements will be lacking.

Dinner and supper will be served at the shelter at a nominal charge. Last year's experience warrants the assertion that the refreshments will be generous, delightful and satisfying.

In the afternoon the prizes will be awarded at the casino to the winners of the various contests. This is to be followed by a song service and an address by a prominent Baptist preacher. After the address there are to be balloon contests. These will contribute their share of amusement to the occasion.

The Bible schools of the First Baptist church of Altoona and of Hollidaysburg and of other Baptist churches will unite their annual picnic with Baptist day. This will help make the day a grand success.

All Baptists and their friends are urged to make a note of Baptist day and to be on hand to participate in the joys and benefits of the day, so that Friday, July 24, may be a red letter day in the denomination.

HUERTA READY TO RESIGN HIS OFFICE

But Even This May Not Bring Peace to Mexican Nation

Vera Cruz, July 13. General Huerta would be willing to step aside from the presidency provided a man agreeable to the various factions could be found to take his place, declares Adolfo de La Lama, Mexican minister of finance, who arrived here yesterday from Mexico City on his way to Europe.

The minister asserted that secret conferences between representatives of General Huerta and Venustiano Carranza, the first chief of the Constitutionalists, were now in progress at New York, and he had reason to believe that unless an agreement was reached with Carranza, Huerta would not surrender the presidency.

The Mexican official was met at the railroad station by General Funston, and extra precautions were taken to guard against any demonstrations.

CESSATION OF FIGHTING IN MEXICO IN FORESEEN HERE

(By International News Service)

Washington, July 13.—Temporary cessation of fighting Mexico is foreseen here. The officials look to the influential nations of Europe and South America to induce Carranza to treat with Francisco Carabajael, who is expected to become provisional president when Huerta abdicates and flees the country, which is now looked for hourly.

When Huerta leaves the officials here believe he will depart through the American lines, under cover of the American guns at Vera Cruz.

Administration circles are showing concern lest the withdrawal of Villa and his army to the north may presage Villa's seeing himself up as president of a northern republic. Scarpata is now intimating that he will not stop fighting until the distribution of landed estates is made.

Even with Huerta eliminated the officials here say no genuine peace will have resulted.

WHAT?

What are you wiling to do to help make Clearfield a bigger and better town?

Good evening! Be glad that you do not live in South Africa, where it is really hot.

FICTITIOUS VALUES.

A number of New Jersey farmers who demanded prices for their lands much higher than the assessed valuation are to pay the penalty of their greed by having the assessed valuation of their farms increased. Real estate should be assessed at a fixed percentage of the price at which it would sell at public sale and the assessement on all property of the same class should be equal.

Nothig prevents the progress of a community more than the fixing of fictitious prices on real estate. Public and private improvements and the establishment of important industries serve to increase the value of real estate in a town, but owners of town lots are too often inclined to increase the price of their holding far above its actual value,causing those who are seeking home sites to abandon the project.

Clearfield real estate is high-priced. Some of the lots of ground in this town are worth what is asked for them, while others are not. Prospective citizens are discouraged from locating in the town by the fact that they are asked two prices for building lots or exoritant rentals. This is why many of the people are building on the West Side, and it is why some of the vacant lots in the central part of the town will remain vacant for many years to come.

PUBLICITY.

What is publicity? It is telling the public what you have to sell, what you want to buy, what you have to show them, et cetera. There are two kinds of publicity—through the columns of the newspapers, and by word of mouth. The merchant, theatrical manager or real estate agent who depends upon the gossips of the neighborhood to make known what he wants the public to learn will receive small patronage.

The newspaper is the only reliable, efficient medium of publicity. The newspaper is read by the intelligent, progressive residents of the community, and the people look to the newspaper to keep them informed, not only of the news of the day, but of what the merchant has to sell, what entertainment the theatre offers and what the real estate agent has for sale. And in Clearfield the Progress is the best advertising medium because it reaches more readers than any other newspaper issued in the town.

Secretary Kalbus has issued his annual invitation for the hunters in the big cities to overrun the interior counties of the state and slay all the game they did not kill last season. Who pays Kalbfus' salary, the people or the big city hunters?

It that carnival which is coming here today is half as bad as reported the burgess should cancel its contract and advise it to move on. Clearfield has no room for immoral shows of any kind.

Wish that the property owners of Clearfield were as liberal in the use of paint on their buildings as some of the women of the town are alleged to be in its use on their faces.

You didn't hear the horny-handed sons of toil who keep the court house steps smooth boasting of their fine garden patches.

Poetic justice must also be blind judging from the many doggerel writers who escape sentence to insane asylums.

here a crowd of 200 men was waiting to meet the Progressives.

Miners Promise Support.

Through the Wyoming valley, historical as the scene of the bloodiest Indian massacre of the revolutionary war, the candidates received assurance that the voters are preparing an equally decisive ending for Penrose and his men.

At Ashley, Charles Brady, one of the influential miners of the district told Mr. Pinchot that the Ashley miners would give him from 500 to 800 votes, James Haslen, another Ashley worker, laid off work for the afternoon so he could meet Pinchot and Lewis.

Four hundred miners receiving their pay at the Kingston colliery, were met personally by the candidates, who stood at the office gate shaking hands as the men came out. A man in the crowd stopped when he saw Pinchot.

"Are you the man who is out against Penrose?" he asked. When Pinchot said yes, he answered. "Then we're with you," and walked on. It was the same at the Ashley shops of the Delaware and Hudson railroad, where 250 men were met as they left the shops at noon. All were eager for the Pinchot buttons and the platforms. Two hundred working men in the Wilkes-Barre freight stations of the Delaware and Hudson, Central, Lehigh Valley and Pennsylvania railroads, were greeted at their work. They were uniformly cordial, promising their help to beat the Penrose gang.

Women Greet the Candidates.

At Nanticoke, one of the most enthusiastic crowds of the day was waiting at Main and Prospect streets when the campaigners arrived. Here Joseph Edwards candidate for the legislature on the Washington ticket, greeted the Progressives.

Dr. Margaret Sorensen, the woman suffrage leader in the district, was in the crowd. At Gracedale, where fifty working men stopped work to meet the candidates, half a dozen women in the crowd told Doctor Lewis and Mr. Pinchot that they wished they could vote for them.

White Haven was reached forty-five minutes behind the time the party was expected, but 200 persons quickly gathered when the Pinchot automobile was seen approaching. They cheered the name of Roosevelt. Fifteen hundred voters were met personally during the day.

IN THE MOVIES

Old Cobbler Reforms Tough Mining Town.

What is success? Does it come from within or without? That depends, you may say on the attitude one assumes as to what sucess is. But why is it some people, honest and wholesome who have made the world better by living in it, seem cut out for misfortune and sorrow? If any one deserved the best the world had to offer it was old Nathan, the hero of this play, Howbeit, few men fared harder. And why? Some people would be inclined to throw down their hands when confronted with such cases, preferring to consider it a conundrin of life that could never be explained. Old Nathan did not understand the treatment that was accorded to him; his wife was a drunkard and his only son a thief. And yet, was his life a failure?

"The Old Cobbler" is a play that at once reaches the deepest sympathies of the human heart. and while the principal character is largely a character study a situation is produced that demands a solution and explanation. As to what they are you must see the play to find out. It will be shown at the New opera house this evening. But in the finding out you will not only be absorbed in the working out of the tense story, but you will have pointed out an answer to that question—what is sucess?—in a way that is both new and stratling. 'Tis a play that is different.

"The Mystery of Wickham Hall," shon at the opera house Saturday evening attracted a large crowd of people, who were greatly interested and astonished as they saw the mysterious linking of past and present that the author has used in this onderful tale of heredity

Another reel of pictures shown was 'Birds of Passage," altogether different from the other reel It was a happy change from the deep unraveling of an almost tragic mystery to this quaint Bohemian comedy Again and again the opera house rang with the laughter and applause of the audience as this picture was shown

"Love and Electricity" is one of the best joker comedies, filled with real live fun. Louise loves Bob. the electrician, but, for a thousand feet of roaring farce, father continues to object until sparks and sparkling ultimately result in victory for electricity—and the lovers. The pictures are shown at the opera house tonight.

Few persons can claim the distinction of having been taught to swim, to ride a cavorting surfboard by the champion swimmer of the world. Miss Betty, pretty and talented leading woman of the Universal studios in Holly wood Cal., who has just returned from Hawaii, where she was a member of the Universal "101 Bison," company, is now one of the most adept women swimmers in the world. Duke Kahananmoku, the Hawaiian who holds the world's record in aquatic dashes up to a mile, was Miss Scade's tutor. The famous Hawaiian not only taught the pretty photoplay star to swim, but also made her into a clever and daring surf-board performer.

Those who have been fortunate enough to witness the advance exhibition of "The Man Who Lost But Won" and 'The Skull" have come to realize that a new and important figure has entered the Universal ranks in the person of Miss Dorothy Philips. She posses a lofty and spirituelle beauty, which greatly aids her in the interpretation of the character she is playing.

Object of Education.

The entire object of true education is to make people not merely "do" the right things, but "enjoy" the right things, not merely industrious, but to love industry—not merely learned, but to love knowledge—not merely pure, but to love purity—not merely just, but to hunger and thirst after justice.—Ruskin

Between Love and Duty.

"I want to talk to you about becoming your son in law," said the young man I can't advise you on the subject of becoming a member of the family,' replied the father of the young woman in the case "As your sincere friend, I ought to speak freely, but as a husband and father I am restrained '
